NEWSLETTER

February / 2022

Dear Parents,

After the Lunar New Year holiday, the learning and teaching discipline of the school has quickly stabilized.

- On February 7, 2022, all students returned to school after the holiday; Primary school starts all day offline learning at school.
- Students continue Term 2 learning program (school year 2021-2022) at the end of the 5th week.
- After Tet due to the weather changes, a lot of students got sick and therefore had to be absent from school. Dear Parents, please kindly pay attention and mind your children's health. When going to school, remind them to bring a coat to keep warm and take care of their health.
- The epidemic situation is still complicated, the school has strengthened epidemic prevention measures, strictly implemented the 5K rule for students, teachers, and staff of the whole school according to current documents of government agencies.
- On February 20, 2022, several eligible 6th graders got vaccinated (1st dose) within the age group specified by the government.

PROJECT OF ENVIRONMENT PROTECTION

Currently, the environmental issue is attracting enormous attention from the public. The earth which is our common home is getting more and more severely polluted and the harmful effects on human life are getting more and more serious. Therefore, keeping our environment green - clean - beautiful is the responsibility of all citizens. What's even more important is to educate future generation to have the awareness of preserving our green planet.

Understanding that mission, the school's students have been participating in the environmental protection project from the smallest, simplest and most ordinary things. After the lesson on the topic of flora and fauna around us, the children came up with the idea of making a picture from waste to call for everyone to participate in protecting environment. The whole process of preparation and implementation are carried out by class 2A students. Let's take a look at our children's products.

SUGGESTIONS ON HOW TO LEARN THE LANGUAGE LITERACY

Writing is a practical subject of Vietnamese in primary level, playing an important role in the curriculum. This subject carries out the task of training the thinking skill, developing language and forming personality for students.

Here are the tips of good writing:

- Understanding the nature of Literature, having the interest in Literature.
- Practicing the reading habit.
- Learning how to memorize effectively.
- Maintaining learning constantly and developing thinking.
- Reviewing the lesson in advance.
- Self-discipline in learning.
- Turning Literature into an interesting subject.
- Regularly discussing and working in groups and practicing telling stories among classmates. Creating a good studying space to enrich your vocabulary.
- Be diligent in the learning.

With the above suggestions, students can improve their learning in writing to help them express many beautiful words and ideas and write meaningful and emotional sentences in accordance with the requirements of the lesson.

MESSAGE FROM Mr. DIEDERICK

After the TET holiday, all the teachers are happy to see our students back on campus. The school is genuinely grateful for your patience and support during online learning.

Now that the children are back in school, they have been taking special care to maintain hygiene and safety procedures. Everyone has been doing their best to ensure we are all staying healthy, strong and safe.

Looking back at what we achieved last semester and not being back in class full-time, we are all taking advantage of the added time to make sure our students have more time to study and to place our focus where students may have struggled during the online learning.

As we start the second semester, we look forward to sharing the positive results with you that we strive to achieve during the final stretch of the school year.

Wishing everyone a happy and rewarding new year.
