BENEFITS FROM READING BOOKS

A good book gives us a good advice, a good friend gives us a good thing." (Gustave Le Bon)

The famous speech of a psychologist is enough to show how valuable books are for humanity. The school library is a place where it keeps publications and documentation such as reference books, newspapers, magazines, and stories. It serves the learning needs of teachers and students. The library is also a bridge connecting books and readers, creating a close relationship between them.

Books are not only used to convey life values but also to provide knowledge to people. M. Gorki, an author, said, "Books open my eyes to new horizons." Thanks to books, people can understand each other more. When writing books, writers transcend his experiences, thoughts and feelings into pages. A thin or thick book reflects the heart of the author. Not only that, readers are also expressing their emotions, thoughts and feelings such as happiness, sadness, anger or hatred when reading. On the other hand, books have a great impact on education such as emotional education, ethics, consciousness, aesthetics and lifestyle.

A valuable book is famous and well-known only when readers feel it and need a bridge to connect between books and readers. The Library is that bridge and SVIS@Nha Trang's library is opened and welcomed to all of readers.
